with Rabbi Joel Sisenwine & Susan Alvares Correa

OVERVIEW

The Journey

Join Rabbi Joel Sisenwine and TBE congregant and Curaçao native Susan Alvares Correa as we embark on a remarkable journey to Curaçao, a Caribbean island with an extraordinary Jewish heritage, vibrant culture, and breathtaking beauty.

Together, we'll meet members of today's Jewish community, explore the people and places that shaped this enduring legacy, share Shabbat and Havdalah, and taste the flavors and traditions that have been passed down through generations. We'll also venture into Bandabou, rural Curaçao, to encounter Curaçao's Afro-Curaçaoan history, art, and music, placing the island's Jewish story within the broader cultural and historical landscape in which it developed.

From the historic Mikvé Israel-Emanuel Synagogue (home to the oldest continuously active Jewish congregation in the Americas), to centuries-old Jewish cemeteries, historic family homes, and the colorful streets of Willemstad, we'll trace more than 375 years of Jewish life and reflect on a unique Jewish legacy that continues to thrive.

- Beth Haim Blenheim Cemetery
- Jewish legacy tour: art, architecture & culture
- Kabbalat Shabbat at the Snoa

The Sephardic Story of Curaçao

Touring: 9:00 AM–3:00 PM

Breakfast

- Enjoy the breakfast buffet at our resort.

Historic Willemstad

- We begin with a drive through Willemstad, a UNESCO World Heritage city renowned for its distinctive and colorful colonial architecture.

Mikvé Israel-Emanuel Synagogue — The Snoa

- Continue to Mikvé Israel-Emanuel Synagogue, affectionately known as the Snoa.
- Completed in 1732, it is the oldest continuously operating synagogue in the Americas and connects us to a Sephardic Jewish story whose Spanish and Portuguese roots can be traced to the Iberian Peninsula of the 1400s.
- Here, we meet Rabbi Martin Hirsch and enjoy a presentation by Ron Gomes Casseres, a Jewish historian in Curaçao.

Jewish Museum Curaçao

- After sampling kesito, a traditional Curaçaoan Sephardic cookie, we continue into the Jewish Museum Curaçao.
- Explore the museum at your own pace with an audio tour, or choose to join a highlights tour with curator Phyllis Meit.

Lunch at La Vie en Rose

- We enjoy a high-tea-style lunch at La Vie en Rose, in the historic district of Scharloo, known for its elegant colonial mansions, many of which were once owned by prosperous Jewish merchants during the 19th century.

Curaçao's Historic Jewish Cemeteries

- On our way back to the hotel, we pass the newer Jewish cemetery, established in 1864, as well as historic Beth Haim Blenheim Cemetery.
- Established in 1659 by Curaçao's first 12 Jewish families, Beth Haim Blenheim is the oldest Jewish cemetery in the Caribbean. Its richly carved tombstones preserve the story of Curaçao's early Sephardic community and its far-reaching Atlantic connections.

Afternoon & Evening at Leisure

- The remainder of the afternoon and evening is yours to enjoy at leisure.
- Optional programming with Rabbi Joel and/or Susan will be shared once we are all on the island.
- Dinner is on your own this evening; recommendations will be provided.

Breakfast

- Enjoy the breakfast buffet at our resort.

Depart for Bandabou

- Travel west into Bandabou, Curaçao's rural western region, where plantation history, Afro-Curaçaoan traditions, and the island's struggle for freedom remain deeply embedded in the landscape.

Tula Museum at Landhuis Kenepa

- Visit the Tula Museum, housed at the former Kenepa plantation, one of the principal sites associated with Curaçao's great slave revolt of 1795.
- We are personally welcomed by Jeanne Henriquez, historian, activist, and director of the museum.
- Through the story of Tula, leader of the 1795 uprising and today recognized as a national hero of Curaçao, Jeanne introduces us to the history of slavery, resistance, emancipation, and the continuing process of confronting Curaçao's colonial past.
- Our conversation moves beyond history to explore nation-building, national identity, collective memory, and the importance of national heroes.

Santa Cruz

- Continue to Santa Cruz, a secluded beach nestled within one of Bandabou's beautiful natural coves.
- Pit-stop at the legendary home base of Juni "Captain Goodlife" Obersi, one of the island's colorful local personalities and refresh with a cocktail on the shaded terrace overlooking the bay, or enjoy a leisurely stroll along the beach. This short yet relaxed interlude offers an opportunity to experience another side of life in rural Curaçao before continuing our journey.

Art, Rhythm & Curaçaoan Identity: Yubi Kirindongo & Pernell Saturnino

- Continue to the home and atelier of internationally renowned Curaçaoan artist Yubi Kirindongo.
- Known especially for transforming discarded materials into powerful works of art, Kirindongo has developed a distinctive visual language rooted in Curaçao, the African diaspora, social consciousness, and the transformation of what society has cast aside. He personally welcomes us into his world and introduces us to his life, artistic philosophy, and work.
- We are joined by Pernell Saturnino, Grammy Award-winning percussionist and Berklee College of Music alumnus, for an encounter with Curaçao's musical heritage.
- Pernell introduces us to traditional Afro-Curaçaoan rhythms and instruments, including the chapi and tambú, and explores how rhythm, music, resistance, spirituality, and community are intertwined in Curaçaoan culture.
- Drinks and finger food are served during this intimate afternoon gathering.

- Share community time followed by Havdalah, marking the transition from Shabbat into the new week.

Art, Books & Dinner in Historic Otrobanda

- Walk together through historic Otrobanda to Sebastopol 9, an art gallery housed in a monumental 18th-century residence that has remained in the same family for approximately three centuries. Today, Philip Chapman and his brothers have given the property a new cultural life as a gallery showcasing emerging Curaçaoan artists.
- Enjoy a private catered dinner buffet inside the gallery, surrounded by contemporary local art.
- During the evening, meet Anneroos Reich, an active member of Curaçao's Jewish community and a board member of the Jewish Museum. Especially for our group she will open her bookstore Hirsch & Reich, outside of opening hours, presenting a curated selection of books relevant to our journey, including Judaica, regional history, literature, art, and culture.
- This encounter also offers an informal opportunity to speak with Anneroos about contemporary Jewish life in Curaçao and everyday island life, connecting the historical Jewish story explored throughout our journey with the community that lives it today.

YOUR HOSTS

Hannah Berkeley Cohen

CO-FOUNDER

Hannah Berkeley Cohen is an Ohio native who has called the Caribbean home since 2012. After spending a semester abroad at the University of Havana, she moved to Cuba to document the country's youth culture, the everyday life of the Cuban middle class, and the island's dwindling Jewish community. By 2015, she had become the New York Times' primary stringer based in Havana, reporting on American foreign policy toward Cuba, the death of Fidel Castro, and the historic visits of President Obama and the Pope. In Havana, she met with dozens of groups organized by the JDC (American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee), synagogues across North America, and Jewish individuals returning for the first time to Cuba since their parents or grandparents left half a century earlier.

Reporting for major media outlets gave Hannah rare access to Cuba's layered society; in 2015, the ease in regulations for travel for Americans to Cuba allowed Hannah to share her insight of the island, with the goal of showcasing a nuanced Cuba: beyond rum, cigars, colorful buildings, and classic cars.

She founded Cuba Rising, a bespoke travel company for Americans seeking to uncover the complex realities of modern Cuba. From meetings with ambassadors to conversations with black-market money exchangers, and culinary workshops with Michelin-starred chefs to cozy cooking lessons with grandmothers in modest home kitchens, Cuba Rising offered intimate cultural exchanges with people from all ranks of Cuban society. Each trip was highly customized, with group sizes capped at eight to ensure flexibility and depth of experience. Hannah is fluent in English and Spanish.

Using her experience in Cuba, Hannah moved to Curaçao in 2024 to delve deeper into the Jewish history and heritage of the island, and create culturally-relevant programs for North American travelers.

Cornelis Greiwe

CO-FOUNDER

Born in the Netherlands and raised across Yugoslavia, Greece, and Cuba, and the Netherlands, Cornelis Greiwe developed an international outlook and love of travel early in life. He brings more than 20 years of entrepreneurial and leadership experience in the international tourism industry. Throughout his career, he has created distinctive travel products, worked with airlines to strengthen regional connectivity, and led hospitality projects across international markets. At the heart of his work is a passion for creating meaningful experiences that connect people, cultures, and networks.

While managing his tour company in Havana, Cornelis founded and produced HAVANA PLAY, a groundbreaking series of electronic music events that provided emerging Cuban DJs and producers with a platform to connect with the international electronic music community. During its year-long run, HAVANA PLAY became the most widely-attended weekly music event in Cuba.

After living and working in both Cuba and Suriname, Cornelis fell in love with Curaçao. He came to understand not only the vital role tourism plays in a small-island economy, but also the potential of cultural tourism to help shape a more sustainable future for the sector. Inspired by Curaçao's extraordinary cultural diversity and layered heritage, he chose to make the island his home and the focus of his work. Today, he creates thoughtful, culture-forward programs that invite visitors to engage more deeply with the island, its history, and its people.

Cornelis is fluent in English, Dutch, Spanish, and German.
